2016 POŠIP KORČULA APPELLATION

HISTORY: Grgić VINA was established in 1996 by legendary Napa Valley winemaker, Croatian-born Miljenko “Mike” Grgich and his daughter, Violet. Dedicated to the art of winemaking, Mike started the winery to produce the finest wines from native Dalmatian grapes, and he concentrates on crafting Croatia’s very best varietals: Plavac Mali and Pošip.

VINTAGE: 2016 was an excellent vintage, dry with moderate temperatures which resulted in grapes with beautifully balanced natural acidity and complex aromatics.

GRAPE: Pošip is an indigenous Croatian variety developed through spontaneous crossing between two varieties from Korčula. This white wine grape variety has been grown for centuries in Croatia on several islands and along the Dalmatian coast, where the cool winds of the Adriatic Sea maintain the perfect temperatures for white grapes.

VINEYARD: Croatia enjoys a long history of winemaking; records show grapes cultivated here centuries before the birth of Christ. Our Pošip grapes were grown on the island of Korčula at a small, steep area of vineyards perched above the Adriatic Sea. The just-picked grapes are brought by boat to the winery, just north of the historic walled city, Dubrovnik, in the southern Dalmatian wine region.

WINE: This crisp, dry wine offers a trip in a glass to the Dalmatian coast with citrus, apricots, and Mediterranean herbs with a just a hint of vanilla. Match its refreshing acidity and flavors with fresh seafood, poultry and light cheeses.
